

Craughwell Handicap Chase

Change in Date of Final Race

The final race in the handicap series is being moved to 2 weeks later than originally scheduled to avoid a clash with the Claregalway 10k.

The new date is Friday September 7th at the usual time ... i.e. all runners finishing around 8pm.

Prizes will be presented that night for overall 1st, 2nd and 3rd in the race series and for fastest male runner and fastest female runner. To be eligible for a series prize, you will need to have competed in at least three races. In a handicap series, 1st place generally means you have made the steadiest improvement over the course of the series.

So try to make it for the final race of the series and see who takes Mick Rice's crown ... Mick pictured below receiving the Craughwell Handicap Chase Perpetual Cup in 2006 from Galway Bay FM's Mary Porter.

Current leader-board for overall 1/2/3 is as follows but its early days yet!
